Morning Oregonian.

VOL. XIII.—NO. 156. PORTLAND, OREGON: TUESDAY, AUGUST 5, 1873. PRICE—TEN CENTS.

EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Washburn Continues to Enforce.

BOSTON, August 4.—On Saturday afternoon State Constable assisted by [illegible] visited a large number of saloons in this city where beer is sold and seized all that could be found, the total amount being 100 kegs. Most of the saloons visited were kept by Germans who had already been twice arrested for dealing in the article but their stock had never been taken before. Immediately after the seizure some of the saloon keepers got a new stock and a second seizure was made. In the evening nearly all the saloons were open and doing business until their stock was exhausted.

Lo! the Poor Indian.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Lieutenant General Sherman says the Indians who depredated in Milk River valley belong to the northern Cheyennes and Arapahoes about Fort Fetterman who were recently represented in the Peace Council at Red Cloud Agency and [illegible]. Colonel Brackett reports from Camp Stambaugh, W. T., that the Indians made an attack on the settlement of old Camp Brown on the 28th day of July, and killed Mrs. Richards and Miss Hall. First Lieutenant Whalen with company B, Second Cavalry, has gone in pursuit of the murderers.

Somebody Swindled—Somebody Complains.

NEW YORK, August 4.—The Tribune states that just before the three-mile race Saturday at Saratoga, John Morrissey made a declaration in front of the pool stand to the effect that "Hubbard" being compelled to start would do so but would not run to win, as he would be pulled up after starting. Many believing that "Wanderer" could beat Harry Bassett and that "Hubbard" was out of the race backed "Wanderer." He did beat Bassett, but both were beaten by Hubbard, which horse it was semi-officially announced was not going to contest the race.

More Outrages.

CINCINNATI, August 4.—A mob near Frankfort, Kentucky, on Saturday night killed a negro accused of an attempt to outrage a white woman.

It is reported that the Ku Klux in Owen and Henry counties are getting very bold. They visited a Louisville packet with the evident intention of doing mischief and were only deterred by the threats of the officers of the boats, who were well armed.

CHICAGO, August 4.—The loss by fire at the Sanger Company's new building on Saturday night is now stated to be $75,000.

Row at a Picnic.

NEW YORK, August 4.—Helvetia Maennerchor had an excursion to College Point yesterday. The rain drove the party on board a boat, and a number of pickpockets attempted to follow, but being resisted made an attack with bricks and stones. Two men had their skulls fractured, and several women were seriously injured. The excursion party used pistols with effect.

Timothy Donovan brutally bruised his wife yesterday, fatally injuring her at their residence, No. 11 Jacob street.

Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, August 3.—A prize fight between Siddons and Chambers took place this morning near Prospect Park fair grounds, Brooklyn, just off Coney Island road, and resulted after fourteen rounds, which occupied near an hour, in the defeat of Siddons, who it is said was not in good fighting condition. He was punished severely by Chambers, who displayed much skill throughout the fight. Finally Siddons was knocked out of time and his second threw up the sponge.

Another Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, August 4.—A prize fight between Jack Boylan and Peter Croker took place this morning at Sand's Point, Long Island. Twenty-three rounds were fought, occupying thirty-two minutes, when Croker was declared victor. Boylan was punished severely; his face was beaten almost to a jelly. Croker was comparatively unhurt. The fight was for $500 and the middle weight championship of America, and was witnessed by a large number.

Nautical Accident.

NEW YORK, August 4.—Much excitement exists among yachtsmen on account of a widely circulated report that a yacht was run down on the Sound by a Newport steamer one night last week and sunk with all on board. Reports add that the steamer struck the yacht about midship and appeared to knock the masts out, sinking her almost instantly. The steamer hove to and remained near the spot for an hour afterwards, but was unable to detect any further sign of the vessel or crew.

Bank Robber Arrested.

NEW YORK, August 4.—Antonio Quero Valvez, clerk of the Commercial Bank of Havana, who it is alleged robbed that institution of bills of exchange to the amount of $6,000 or $7,000, and $20,000 in gold, was arrested on the steamer City of Mexico while that vessel was coming up the bay. Nearly all the money was found. He had a female with him who took the arrest very calmly. Enrique Casarres and Mira Y. Luc, who are said to be involved in the robbery, are also arrested.

A Semi-Official Opinion on the Gordon-Gordon Case.

NEW YORK, August 4.—A Washington special says that Governor Austin and Senator Ramsey, of Minnesota, had an interview with Acting Secretary of State Davis regarding the imprisonment of the Minneapolis officers at Fort Garry. Mr. Davis said the State Department would endeavor to secure the release on bail of all parties on their pledging that on being so released they shall appear in the Canadian Courts when their case is called.

Our Regular Murder.

ST. LOUIS, August 3.—Thos. Coyne and Wm. Olmstead while unloading a coal barge yesterday, got into a quarrel and the former knocked the latter into the river. He was drowned. Coyne has been arrested.

PROVIDENCE, August 3.—Some drunken roughs assaulted some policemen on Federal Hill last night and pistols were used to quell the riot. Five of the mob were wounded—some seriously.

Advance of the Cholera.

NEW YORK, August 3.—Cholera has appeared at Union Hill, N. J., opposite New York. Two cases have been reported, one of which proved fatal. One fatal case is reported at Pleasantville on the Harlem railroad.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Following are the postal changes for the Pacific coast made during the past week: Offices established—Butler Creek, Umatilla county, Oregon, John S. Vincent Postmaster; Park City, Washington Territory, George Snyder Postmaster. Postmaster appointed—Jefferson, Marion county, Oregon, C. B. Rolands.

Mortality in the Departments.

Robert S. Chew, chief clerk of the State Department, who was struck with paralysis a week ago, died at an early hour this morning. Chew was appointed to a clerkship in the State Department from Virginia and had been employed for nearly forty years in that department.

J. H. Lapsley, a clerk in the [illegible] Department, [illegible] [illegible]ing.

Vandalism.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Yesterday some vandal entered old Christ Church, Alexandria, known as the place where Washington worshiped, and [illegible] down, destroying the [illegible] prayer book [illegible] silver plate from Washington's pew, [illegible] committing other depredations.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 4.—There were four persons convicted [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. [illegible] Chin was [illegible] to [illegible]. [illegible] [illegible]

Chas. Mullen, alias Madam Moncha, will be [illegible] tried in the Municipal Court this afternoon. [illegible]

The pearl fishing schooner [illegible] has shipped a new crew. She leaves Thursday afternoon for Southern California. The diving bells and all their arrangements work splendid.

Morris H. O'Kane, who pleaded guilty to a charge of adultery on Saturday, has been sentenced in the Police Court to pay $300 fine or in default to 300 days in jail. His self-convicted paramour escaped and has not yet been arrested.

Daniel J. Finnchian, a cousin of [illegible] is still confined in the city prison in default of $5,000 bail. The examination has been postponed till Wednesday on account of the absence of an important witness for the defense.

The Chinaman assaulted by William Morgan and cut with a knife is still in a [illegible] condition. His wounds may result fatally.

James McDonald was convicted in the Police Court this morning on four distinct charges of indecent exposure, assault and battery, vulgar language and resisting an officer. He stands a good chance to spend a year in the county jail.

Michael Tush and George Clark, neither over 12 years of age, and the residue of the young boys' club formed to assault Chinamen, have been arrested by the police. There are seven now confined in all charged with an assault with a deadly weapon.

The balance of the gang of young incendiaries engaged in the attempt to fire the factory of the Wood Preserving Company have been arrested. The statement made by one of the boys shows they were a regular organization of hoodlums to set places on fire for the sake of robbery. Total number arrested eight, who range from 10 to 14 years of age.

Weather this morning was very disagreeable, misty, raining and chilly.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 4.—Ah Fing was sent to the county jail for three months for the theft of a two dollar hat to-day.

Chinese merchants of acknowledged respectability and influence denounce the secret Hip Yee Tong Society and ask that the principal men thereof be convicted. They state that the two men Chow and Fong are the leaders and have imported 6,000 women from China, which they have sold for over $400,000. Rich details are promised in the court examination to-morrow.

Chas. Mullen, alias Madam Moncha, stands a good chance for San Quentin. Testimony for the prosecution is stronger than at the first trial.

Daniel Finnchian accused of a rape on Mrs. Tom Anstro has charges of assault with deadly weapon, threatening to take life, vulgar language, assault and battery, indecent exposure of person against him in addition to the principal one. He has had Mrs. A. arrested for assault and battery.

John Brasler was sentenced to one year in the County Jail for grand larceny while he was drunk.

Four persons indicted for murder, three men and one woman, will be tried this month.

Lizzie Gannon, whose case is notorious throughout California, was to have had a trial to-day. Owing to sickness it was continued ten days. It is supposed the case will be discontinued because of the absence of C. N. McDermott, the man assaulted, in Europe.

Rum's Candle Factory took fire yesterday and was extinguished after three hours of hard work. Loss $2,000.

The charges of malfeasance in office and bribery preferred against First Assistant Engineer Burckess will be heard by the Fire Commissioners to-morrow.

Ah Tong was run over yesterday at Lathrop by a train on the C. P. R. R. His arm was amputated and he brought to the city. The Chinese Company to which he belonged refused to receive him, and he was taken to the City Prison and thence to the County Hospital.

The Democratic Convention is holding an open session to-night at which the various candidates nominated are delivering speeches. After all are heard it will go into executive session to nominate Judge of the Nineteenth District Court, vice Dangerfield withdrawn.

There have been fourteen arrests made during the past five hours of persons on charges of assault and battery.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 4.—The Workingmen's Executive Committee appointed Friday night last, are in secret session to-night appointing a nominating convention. This proceeding is directly against the spirit of the resolutions passed at that meeting.

The weather this evening is miserable. A heavy fog is on the bay and a disagreeable misty rain is falling. But few people on the streets.

Interior California.

STOCKTON, August 4.—In the Police Court to-day the preliminary examination of Mich. W. Cooper, charged with the unlawful killing of Edgerton, near Lockport, on Monday of last week. The case is continued until Wednesday next.

In the District Court the case of George N. Bennett and Elizabeth C. Wilkins, indicted for murder. The defendants were allowed one day to plead.

An election for officers of the Stockton Fire Department takes place this evening.

SAN RAFAEL, August 4.—The Republican County Convention met to-day and organized by the election of R. K. Weston President, and Wm. Vanderbilt Secretary. The following nominations were made: For Assembly, J. R. Rice; Sheriff, G. Watson; Treasurer, G. W. Stillwell; Clerk, J. M. Wane; District Attorney, Sidney V. Smith; [illegible] Assessor, Wm. Vanderbilt; Surveyor, H. Austin; Coroner, W. O. L. Crandall; Superintendent of Schools, D. W. Wheeler. Delegates to the State Judicial Convention, M. Osborne, E. M. Apgar, C. Murphy and [illegible] H. Allen. The Convention adopted a platform [illegible] both.

What will England Do about It?

NEW YORK, August 4.—A London paper [illegible] that the English government knew nothing of the concession [illegible]. Earl Granville stated in the Commons that [illegible] [illegible] of September. A correspondent [illegible] Rochefort [illegible] concession with the exception of an Englishman which he regards [illegible] interest, and offered Granville an opportunity to reap the political benefit of the grant to England. Granville ignored the political significance of the concession and treated it entirely as a commercial speculation which it was out of the ordinary line of the policy of the Government to protect.

From Paris.

PARIS, August [illegible].—Ex-President Thiers yesterday, in the course of his reply to [illegible], who presented him with a gift from the [illegible] of Mulhausen, declared that the attitude of France toward foreign powers should be strictly neutral; that difficulties in Spain were purely internal, and as France claimed her territory inviolate she ought to respect that of Spain.

PARIS, August 4.—The Prefect of Lyons has issued an order closing the public gardens in the city at 9 o'clock in the evening.

Bradlaugh and the Duke of Edinburgh.

LONDON, August 3.—A meeting was held in Hyde Park to-day to protest against a grant to the Duke of Edinburgh, Bradlaugh presiding. It was resolved that the Queen be petitioned to refuse her assent to the bill.

Movement against the Carlists.

ROME, August 4.—A fleet of Italian war vessels has been ordered to proceed to Carthagena to protect Italians there, and co-operate with other foreign vessels in whatever measures may be deemed necessary.

PERU.

Great Earthquake in Valparaiso.

VALPARAISO, July 12.—A great earthquake was felt here July 8th. The shocks were worse than those of 1822. A great deal of damage was done to many houses and churches, though the affair was nothing compared with the late earthquake at San Salvador. Some few lives were lost by falling walls and one lady died from fear.

THE MORALS OF JOURNALISM

In the discussions of journalism which have been started by editorial conventions and the establishment of chairs of journalism in one or two academic institutions, it is well not to forget the matter of morals. A great deal of indignation has been meted out to those presses which publish quack advertisements calculated to encourage vice and crime. In this thing a gnat is strained at that a camel may be swallowed, for almost without exception the papers which denounce and refuse to publish these advertisements take endless pains to spread before their readers the details of the crimes which the advertisements are supposed to engender or encourage. Murders, suicides, seductions, adulteries, burglaries, thefts, scandals—all disagreeable and disgraceful things, detailed histories of events which appeal to prurient tastes and a morbid desire for coarse and brutal excitements—are not these the leading material of a great multitude of our daily papers? We may be mistaken, but we believe that there is no department of the world's news given with such exhaustive particularity as that which relates to vice and crime. If this be doubted let the first paper at hand be taken up and the fact will, we think, be determined as we apprehend it. We know that in many papers the spiritual agencies of society—the churches, schools, social conventions—private and organized charities—beg for space that is freely accorded to the record of a petty thief or an unfaithful husband or wife. That which will make a spicy paragraph is chosen before that which will make a healthy one.

Nor is this all. The crimes which are thus spread before the public for its daily food are often treated like anything but crimes. Some of our papers have a way of doing up their columns of local crimes as if it were all a joke. The writer makes an engagement to be jest of every thing he is called upon to notice. The poor women who are lost to virtue and society, with hell within them and before them, furnish grateful themes for the reporter's careless pleasantries. Their arraignment, their trial, their sentence, their appearance, their words, are chronicled in unfeeling slang, with the intent to excite laughter. That which to a good man or woman is infinitely pathetic is made to appear a matter to be laughed at, or to be passed over as of no account. A case of infidelity in the marriage relation, involving the destruction of the peace of families, the disgrace of children, and the irremediable shame of the parties primarily concerned, comes to us labelled "rich developments." The higher the life involved and the purer the reputation, the richer the development always. Nothing pleases our jesting reporter like large game. A clergyman is the best, next a lay member, and then any man or woman who may be in high social position. Crime in high life is a particularly grateful dish for those to serve up who cater for the prurient public. It is impossible not to conclude that the men who write the items and articles delight in them, and that the men who publish them regard them only with relation to their mercantile value. We know of nothing more heartless than the way in which criminals and crime are treated by a portion of the daily press, and nothing more demoralizing to the public and to those who are guilty of trifling with them under the license of the reporter's pen. It is a bad business. It is an evil which every paper claiming to be respectable ought to [illegible]. [illegible] treated lightly is to encourage [illegible] as the edifying and amusing [illegible] [illegible] which [illegible] it.

The daily paper [illegible] become the daily food of children and youth all over our country [illegible] [illegible] things of greater moment and of sweeter [illegible] [illegible]. The [illegible] that the press must be [illegible] faithful [illegible] [illegible] important things [illegible] [illegible]

OREGON

[illegible] sweet [illegible] Jackson county.

Schools will [illegible] in the Sisters' Academy at Jacksonville on the 18th inst.

Senator [illegible] of Jackson county has appointed John Young and Abraham Monroe agricultural [illegible] to the [illegible] at Corvallis [illegible].

On Saturday the 26th ultimo a Chinaman was drowned near Hunter's Ferry, on Rogue river, in Jackson county, while putting in a wing dam.

The report reached Salem last Saturday that two men had been hung by the people in Portland for incendiarism. The report might have been true if catching did not always come before hanging.

Messrs. Hallock, Wellman, Gage & Co. are doing extensive mining on Wagner creek, Jackson county. They have prospected considerably and have discovered ten separate and distinct veins of argentiferous quartz. They are situated both sides of the creek. Silver exists on the east side of the creek and gold bearing quartz also. Some of the ledges prospect very well.

A team belonging to Captain English who lives near Silver Creek Falls, Marion county, while hitched to a plow a few days ago, became suddenly afflicted with emotional insanity, and the way they kicked that plow was a caution. One of the horses kicked it so much he broke both of his hind legs, and it became necessary to kill the animal, which was a valuable one.

A letter from Hillsboro says: "Work in the harvest field in Washington county is being rapidly pushed forward and some lots are now ready for market. The usual inquiries are being made as to facilities for shipping. We do not know whether the railroad intends taking any grain this year or not from any point outside Cornelius. If they do it would not be amiss to notify the farmers."

From Mr. D. D. Prettyman the Statesman learns the particulars of an accident which occurred in Polk county on last Wednesday. It seems that the horses of Mr. W. H. Vandervort becoming frightened started to run. It being on a down grade Mr. V. was unable to stop them and their speed increased very rapidly. When near the bottom of the grade one of the wheels struck an object in the road, throwing Mr. V. out of the wagon directly in front of the wagon. One of the wheels passed over both of Mr. V.'s legs, but strange to say they were not broken. The wagon is not much of a wagon just now.

The stone in the foundation of the State Capitol building has lately been measured and found to contain 2,340 perch of rough rock. Of this amount 2,100 perch was taken from the quarries of South Salem. This rock weighs 2,800 pounds to the perch, making an aggregate of 6,580,000 pounds, or 3,290 tons of rock in the foundation. For this rock there was paid for it at the quarry 75 cents per perch, for hauling 87½ cents, or $1 62½ cents per perch laid down at the building, making the snug little sum of $4,418, all of which has been paid out to parties living in the city.

A letter from Baker City July 28th to the Walla Walla Spirit says: "On Thursday a band of Texas cattle, numbering 884 head, passed through the valley just outside of town bound for Grand Ronde valley, and owned by Mr. John Creighton, of Uniontown. Several companies of soldiers passed through here en route to your city. I understand that one company was paid off here, and as a consequence the trouble with the family near Burnt river. Only one of the three engaged in the affair was arrested, the other two having deserted or escaped. The one captured now lies in jail in default of a $500 bond awaiting the action of the next grand jury."

NARROW ESCAPE.—The little steamer [illegible], at the time the fire was spreading northward along the east side of Front, was laying in the rear of the Tack House. The persons engaged on her were fast asleep during the period which the flames were fast devouring the Tack and Kellog Houses, and it was with difficulty that parties managed to get aboard the boat and warn the sleeping men of their danger. The boat was cut away from the wharf, but not before the starboard side was pretty well scorched from the intense heat. No damage was done to the steamer beyond the scorching, and a small expenditure will place her cabin and lower works in as good order as formerly.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says: "A remarkable fossil head was found by Mr. F. C. Lane on the 27th inst., in the vicinity of Jackson Creek, and near this place. It resembles somewhat the head of a grizzly bear, but many of the features are different, and its immense size precludes the possibility of its belonging to the bear species. It unquestionably belongs to a race of extinct animals which lived here long ago. The head is twice the size of that of the average horse. The teeth are from two to three times as large as those of the average horse and have seams of ivory or something very much resembling ivory running through them. The lower jaw unfortunately is missing and also a portion of the front part or snout of the upper jaw, yet enough remains to indicate that the animal to which this head belonged was of massive size and great strength."

The Louisville Courier-Journal [illegible] not believe in transatlantic ballooning. It says: "If Mont Blanc were a solid lump of gold, and in order to become the owner of it we had nothing to do but go over in Professor Wise's balloon and take possession of it, we would a thousand times rather sit down on the shore of Massachusetts Bay and starve to death. For we should then have at least the [illegible] of knowing where we were and what we were doing." The C.-J. further remarks that even if Professor Wise succeeds in this undertaking he will never find it convenient to [illegible] [illegible] and that he will [illegible] walk back.

A Prussian Amazon has appeared in Spain. A Vienna newspaper says: "We have had the pleasure of [illegible] a woman who will [illegible] [illegible] Carlists [illegible] twenty-five years of age, has rather pretty face and blonde hair [illegible]."

THE TERRITORIES

At the Upper Puyallup, in the [illegible] inst., an Indian by the name of White River Peter beat his klootchman to death with a club. Peter has left for parts unknown.

There are two companies of soldiers stationed at Fort Walla Walla. They are F and H, 21st Infantry. Two other companies are expected [illegible] at the 10th inst.

A line from Rev. J. F. DeVore informs us that a Methodist Church was organized at Tacoma last Saturday and a meeting held to take measures for the erection of a house of worship.

In the month of July just closed, the cash entries at the Olympia Land Office amounted to 1,904.91 acres at $7,444 [illegible]; homestead entries 4,766.67 acres, and 41 pre-emption filings. The business of the month was considerably larger than usual.

Mr. H. A. Webster has chosen Mr. J. B. Montgomery for his referee in the appraisement of his property at Neeah Bay. Rev. J. F. DeVore has been chosen on the part of the Government. They choose a third one.

Daniel Cram, ex-Controller of Idaho Territory, has been arrested on a charge of embezzling the Territorial funds and held in $1,500 bonds to answer at the District Court. The amount which he is charged to have fraudulently used is between $800 and $900.

A fine two story frame building worth $3,000 at Walla Walla was burned to the ground on the 30th ult. The house was owned by Charles Russell and occupied by the Rev. Mr. Wells, the teacher in the Episcopal school, and also used as a boarding house for some of the pupils.

The following representatives and alternates to the Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. of Washington and British Columbia were elected to serve for one year: Representatives from Tacoma Lodge at Olympia, R. H. Hewitt, W. H. Roberts and J. S. Dobbins. Alternates, J. B. Henry, A. R. Elliott and Mattie Chapman.

The drug store of Kelly & Carney at Seattle was burglariously entered on Monday night of last week, by forcing the back door open, and a money drawer containing $230 was carried away. The room of Father Prefontaine of the same place was entered on Tuesday night and robbed of several movable articles of no value to the thief.

A man started from Port Blakely to Seabeck on Wednesday of last week, in company with three Indians in a canoe, and when but three-quarters of a mile off the shore the canoe was struck by a sudden squall and capsized. The sea being rough the canoe could not be righted, so the white man and one Indian left the canoe and swam to the shore. The other two Indians, one of whom was a klootchman, were drowned.

The following wheat items are concerning the crops of that cereal raised in Walla Walla valley. The Hon. John Scott has raised this season, harvested and thrashed out, 1,492 bushels of wheat on 26 acres of ground, and it has been decided by competent judges—farmers—that at least 200 bushels were left on the ground so badly lodged by the late storms that they could not be gathered. Upon 50 acres of land Mr. Mayfield has raised, harvested and thrashed 3,375 bushels wheat, making an average of 67½ bushels to the acre. Mr. Robert Kennedy, who lives on Dry Creek, has just harvested off of 150 acres a volunteer crop of 5,250 bushels, making an average of 35 bushels to the acre.

The Walla Walla Spirit of July 31st says: Mr. H. Lawson, a gentleman from Omaha, who on Tuesday evening arrived overland, gives us information of a robbery of the mail upon the stage of the Northwestern Stage Company between Boise City and Kelton. The robbery occurred last Saturday morning between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock. The stage was the one going toward the railroad, and the robbery took place about a half mile this side of the first crossing of Snake river. The stage was stopped at that point by a man who wished to know how much would be charged for riding a certain distance down the road. Upon being told he replied that he would go, and commenced clambering into the interior of the coach. The driver telling him that passengers were inside asleep requested him to mount upon the box beside him. The man then stepped to one side of the road to get, as he said, his blankets, which he had forgotten. He picked up however a gun instead of blankets and leveled it at the driver's head. At the same instant two other men stepped out from the bushes and commanded the driver to deliver to them the mail sacks and treasure box or else to consent to have his luminary incontinently snuffed out. The frightened driver complied and delivered up the treasure box together with sacks of mail. The coach was then allowed to depart. The passengers were one lady, one young man and a minister from Boise, who at the first note of the discordant din prudently stuffed his valuables down his boot legs. It is said that no booty was obtained from the treasure box, it being at the time empty.

THE SHAH'S HABITS.

WHAT HE THINKS OF THE LADIES—HIS MANNERS AT TABLE.

George W. Smalley writes from London to the New York Tribune as follows:

No set of [illegible] perhaps before the women of England have had the honor of interesting the Shah. Regarding them naturally from the Oriental point of view, His Majesty has made a number of remarks which will scarcely bear repetition in print. The prevailing fashion of dress has given him abundant opportunity to compare their attractions with those of his own harem. For three he is reported to have offered £30,000, with the option of [illegible] the bargain and returning to England after a fair trial; they disliked Persia. One of the three told me she was inclined to accept if the money could be settled on herself, and if she [illegible] feel sure of getting back. But I think the bargain has been closed.

At Lady Granville's party at the Foreign Office on Tuesday night, it was an American lady—some say two or three fair Americans—who had the honor to attract this noble savage's regard. At one or two dinners he has found himself with a lady on each side of him [illegible]

THE HIGH COURT OF HONOR

KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE CHIVALRY IN COUNCIL—[illegible] THE SOLE AND FINAL [illegible] CALLED IN TO SETTLE THE TROUBLE.

Jefferson Davis has lately acted as judge or umpire in a case of honor, and his judgment and award have been published. The circumstances of the case [illegible] as follows:

Some time early in June Col. R. W. Wintersmith, of Louisville, Ky., visited Memphis, and while there was introduced on the street to Capt. F. A. Cole. While talking the name of some person was mentioned which led to a controversy, Cole evidently mistaking Wintersmith for some one else and Wintersmith mistaking the person of whom Cole was talking. High words—expletives—were used by both, which ended in Wintersmith knocking Cole down. It appears that Cole holds some office by the oath of which he is prevented from sending or receiving a challenge to fight a duel. But that night his friend Capt. W. R. Lucas called at the hotel and demanded that Wintersmith should name a time and place where, without any formal challenge, he would meet Cole and when the rencontre could be renewed. In other words, that both parties should meet armed as they please, and have a street fight. Wintersmith promised to give an answer next morning, he having in the meantime been arrested and held to keep the peace. Next day he left the city. Some hours later Lucas called for an answer, and finding Wintersmith out, wrote a very insulting note to Wintersmith, accusing him in general terms of having avoided a fight. After Wintersmith got back to Kentucky he published a long history of the affair, which led to rejoinders, and eventually there became mixed up in all the following persons: Col. Wintersmith, Capt. Cole, Capt. Lucas, Col. W. I. Duff, Dr. Clarke, Dr. Blackburn, Col. Coleman and Judge Foute. After this Mr. James G. Wintersmith, of Louisville, son of the Colonel, wrote to Capt. Lucas, informing the latter that as he had interfered as a substitute for Cole, he (young W.) offered to fight in place of his father. This Lucas refused to agree to, and the whole thing broke out anew in the shape of correspondence. Finally Gen. John C. Breckinridge and Col. Johnson, representing Kentucky, and Gov. Isham G. Harris and Gen. W. B. Bate, the State of Tennessee, consented to act as arbitrators. The four arbitrators made awards, all of them differing, and the matter was then referred to Jeff Davis as umpire. Davis made short work of it. He decided that, as Wintersmith inflicted a blow, doing so under a misapprehension, he should apologize therefor, and that being done all the rest of the correspondence, which makes a page of the Memphis papers, should be withdrawn. The decision is so just that the wonder is that none of the Colonels, Captains, Judges, Governors and Doctors who had been concerned in the case had never thought of it before. The decision is final. The sovereign States of Kentucky and Tennessee are content. The sword and pistol and bowie-knife are put away, and amity once more prevails among the knights of chivalry.

A HOUSE IN CALIFORNIA ONE THOUSAND YEARS OLD.

The loftiest house and the most perfect in the matter of architecture I have ever seen was that which a wood-chopper occupied with his family one winter in the forests of Santa Cruz county. It was the cavity of a redwood tree 240 feet in hight. Fire had eaten away the trunk at the base, until a circular room had been formed 16 feet in diameter. At 20 feet or more from the ground was a knot-hole, which afforded egress for the smoke. With hammocks hung from pegs, and a few cooking utensils hung upon other pegs, that house lacked no essential thing. This woodman was in possession of a house which had been 1,000 years in process of building. Perhaps on the very day it was finished he came along and entered in. How did all jack-knife and hand-saw architecture sink into insignificance, in contrast with this house in the solitudes of the great forest! Moreover, the tenant fared like a prince. Within 30 yards of his coniferous house a mountain stream went rushing past to the sea. In the swirls and eddies under the shelving rocks, if one could not land half a dozen trout within an hour, he deserved to go hungry as a penalty for his awkwardness. Now and then a deer came out into the openings and at no great distance, quails, rabbits and pigeons could be found. What did this man want more than nature furnished him? He had a house with a cupola 240 feet high, and game at the cost of taking it. This Arcadian simplicity would have made a lasting impression but for a volunteer remark that nothing could be added to give life a more perfect zest. "Well, yes," said he, "I reckon, if you are going back to town you might tell Jim to send me up a gallon of whisky and some plug tobacco." It will not do to invest a hollow tree with too much of sentiment and poetry. If that message had not been suggested, we should have been under the delusion to this day that the lives of those people dwelling in a house fashioned 1,000 years ago were rounded to perfect fullness, without one artificial want.—Overland Monthly.

THE WISCONSIN GRANGES.

A Milwaukee dispatch of the 25th ult. says: The Granges of Dodge county to-day in county convention adopted the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, The events of the past ten years demonstrate that the tendency of all who are intrusted with governmental offices is to disregard the interests of the people and the country for the attainment of selfish purposes; and,

WHEREAS, The consequent corruption, stealing and perjury which so generally prevail among the public officers must be stopped; and,

WHEREAS, Both political parties have proved their inability to check those practices which threaten the utter demoralization of the country, and believing in equal rights for all and special privileges for none, either private or corporate, and believing that the tariff, bank, railroad, telegraph and all other monopolies are inimical to our interests, and use what power we may have in placing men in office who believe and practice honesty in office as well as out, and whose fidelity to our interests are known to us, which can be accomplished only by political action; therefore,

Resolved, By the Patrons of Husbandry of Dodge county, Wisconsin, in county convention assembled, that we invite our brethren throughout the State to meet in convention at Milwaukee on Thursday, August 21st, 1873, at 10 o'clock A. M., for consultation and such other action as may be deemed best for our interests and that of the State; and to that end we recommend that each grange in the State be entitled to three delegates, to be elected by each grange, and commissioned under seal signed by the proper officers.

THE KANSAS BRIBERY CASE—SUIT DISMISSED.—[illegible], Kansas, July 28.—John Q. Page, who began an action in the District Court of this county to recover $7,000 paid into the Kansas Legislature by A. M. York, dismissed the case to-day, paying all costs. The suit was to recover money now in the hands of the State Legislature on the ground set forth by Pomeroy in his defense that the money was given to Page and the establishment of a bank [illegible] Independence. It was set for the [illegible] of August, and it was thought a continuance would be asked as all the testimony involved in a criminal action against Pomeroy would naturally be [illegible]. It is now a very puzzling question to whom the money belongs, as it is positively understood that Pomeroy will set up no claim to it on his own account.

Walter Howe, a [illegible] with whom last week led [illegible] to commit murder by drowning at Milford and Mills shot himself in the heart at the same place yesterday afternoon, living a few hours.

THE REJOINDER.

PORTLAND, July 31, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Permit me to again intrude upon your columns to reply briefly to Mrs. E. H. Taylor. Coming to the point at once, I have only to say in regard to Mrs. Duniway's charitable comment and my own letter, they are both before the public and there I am content to rest them. But thanks, many thanks, to Mrs. Taylor for her interpretation of plain English. I frankly admit the reading public stood in great need of it.

Next, I would entreat her to put away her sorrow, for she can rest assured I have no notion whatever of becoming the tool of tricky politicians. But let me say, in justice to politicians, tricky or otherwise, not one of them has ever sought to influence me in the least particular. Who "J. G." is or what he may have written I know not; but this I know, whoever he is, he has never dictated ought to me. I have not the remotest idea of who he is. My letter was called forth by my own indignation, and that was aroused, and I claim justly, by Mrs. Duniway's course in reference to Mr. Mitchell, and it was published in the OREGONIAN simply because it was not published, and yet was commented upon, in the New Northwest. I could not for the life of me understand what right our leader had to shield Mr. Mitchell with the woman movement, what right she had to clog our noble, [illegible] cause with a worse than Woodhull.

If Mr. Mitchell is a woman suffragist it is from force of circumstances, not from choice, else why did he not endorse the doctrine fully, advocate it openly, and defend it squarely before the public, while his name and reputation yet seemed fair before the world? Because it was not then necessary to his own advancement. If he should be allowed to retain his seat in the United States Senate, which is doubtful—he will not have sufficient influence in his exalted position to rend our political chains asunder, nor yet to forge them stronger. He will figure there as naught, save in the matter of salary. But then if our leaders are determined to shoulder his dead weight and bear it aloft for the next six years, I know not who shall hinder them. Certainly none can blame the Senator for allowing them that exquisite pleasure. I, for one, have never charged Mrs. Duniway with wanting promotion, and I know she is earnest in the woman movement, but at the same time I claim that Senator Mitchell is the second obstacle that her mistaken enthusiasm has thrown in the way that will retard the enfranchisement of the women of Oregon.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST [illegible] 18[illegible]

PARTYISM.

The leading editorial article in the Dalles Mountaineer of August 1st is an able discussion of the evils of too great partisanship in the politics of the country. The editor takes for his text Washington's warning: "If we mean to support the liberty and independence which it has cost us so much treasure and blood to establish, we must drive away the demon of party spirit;" and says it "should be heralded throughout this nation to-day, and the people should learn to read this axiom of political wisdom. That the Father of his Country was fit to be its counselor upon this matter few will doubt, and in the light of the experience of nearly a century the wisdom of his counsel has been demonstrated over and over again, until there ought to be none to question it now."

It is not the abolishment of political parties that is to be sought for; that was impossible if not undesirable. The evil is not in the fact that political parties exist. A political party properly understood is only the voluntary association of men who entertain similar views upon questions affecting the public interests and who deem it more or less important that these views be carried into practice. Such an association is natural; it is simply cooperation to accomplish a common object for the public welfare. But too often the party ceases to be considered as a means of enforcing correct views in political affairs and becomes merely an instrument in the hands of skillful manipulators of men for the accomplishment of selfish purposes. Indeed, so general has this become, that a very large proportion of the members of the party seek its triumph for no reason in the world but that they and their respective friends have promises or prospects of personal advantage from its success. Others follow the party without any definite object in view, not regarding the party as a means to be used in carrying some cherished principle into practice, but laboring hard nevertheless, and subordinating everything else to the success of the party. To these the party is an end, instead of a means; the party is everything and the principle nothing. Of these two classes it is easy to see that one is self-seeking and mercenary, while the other is disinterested, in the ordinary sense of this term, and may be honest; but there is little difference between them so far as their course affects the good of the community. The selfish exertions of the one, though morally worse, are little worse in the practical and immediate effects upon society than the blind zeal of the other. The spirit that esteems the triumph of the party of so great moment as to justify the use of any means, howsoever unconscientious, and the sacrifice of any public interest, howsoever great, to build up and cement the party, or to secure its success in any given contest, is a spirit that is vicious in itself and bodes evil to the country. When parties are used as other associations of men and women are used, to promote legitimate objects, they exert a salutary effect upon the body politic by stimulating inquiry into all matters touching the public weal, and by keeping a strict and vigilant watch over the conduct of public officers. But this pleasing theory of the uses of party has too little exemplification in practice. As the Mountaineer says:

> Political managers know well the advantages of party organization and discipline. They have worked particularly to build up their party, and, as a necessary result, they make principles secondary. Everything is for party and nothing is for the country, unless it tends to party or personal aggrandizement. As the result of this extravagant party spirit men have submitted to all kinds of impositions—eaten dirt, as it is called—sacrificed their manhood and degraded themselves all through the party lash and a frenzied, irrational party spirit. In these latter days, partyism has usurped the place of patriotism, and is the demon Washington cautioned us against.

We are hardly ready to acquiesce in the Mountaineer's idea expressed in the subjoined extract, that the present political parties have already fulfilled their missions, and ought therefore to be cast away with other effete rubbish; but we cannot truthfully deny that much that is said here is true:

> There appears to be a moral and physical law that assigns to institutions, as well as to physical structures, a limit to their existence. When institutions have filled their providential term they "go by the board," notwithstanding great human efforts may be made to save them. We see the old political parties to-day, without a substantial live issue between them. It appears to us they have filled their mission and they must soon succumb to the inevitable decree of fate and the howls of the office-holders and the moans of the avaricious treasure-plunderers will be impotent to save.
>
> It is said the people are slow to move, and "that they must feel before they can see." They have felt the heavy burden of taxation, they have seen the public treasury robbed by the Credit Mobilier, the salary steal and a thousand different ways; and they know that every dollar of this plunder is produced by the toil and sweat of the working men of this nation, and they the only producers of wealth are aroused to action. We say, God speed you—work out the great destiny of this nation.

AN APOLOGY.

We regret exceedingly the oversight through which no mention was made in the first edition of the OREGONIAN yesterday of the meritorious services of the Oregon City firemen who came promptly to the assistance of our citizens on Saturday morning. The omission was plainly accidental and was attributable to the haste and confusion that are unavoidable on such occasions. The injustice was discovered as soon as the paper was out, and when the demand came for a second edition we took pains to have justice done in the premises. No firemen did better service or behaved themselves more nobly than the Oregon City boys, and they received praise from everybody. We should certainly be very sorry to have the firemen of our neighboring city think we had intentionally omitted them while mentioning the gallantry of those who came to the rescue from other places, and we therefore, in addition to the correction in our second edition of yesterday's paper, take this first opportunity to make public reparation and beg pardon of our generous neighbors.

At Pendleton on the 31st ult., in the afternoon, the thermometer stood at 106° in the shade, which, so to speak, was mighty warm.

BRUTAL TREATMENT OF CHINAMEN.

Too strong language cannot be used in condemning the inhumanity that was exercised by some persons toward Chinamen during the fire on Saturday. It was right to impress them into the service and compel them to work in any place where they could be made useful, and had this alone been done, forcibly if necessary, no reasonable person could complain of it. But we regret to say that matters did not stop here. We have heard of many instances of cruelty to these people, and one case of downright brutality came under our personal observation. A large number of Chinamen were drawing a hose carriage along Taylor street near the corner of Second when they came to a place where for a considerable distance the roadway, which is of plank, was on fire. One Chinaman was barefooted and of course he did not wish to walk through the fire. The rest moved right on, but this one dropped out and attempted to run around the burning section to join his comrades when they should have passed it. He was caught by a soldier who was armed with a musket and bayonet and pushed back on the burning roadway and then prodded with the bayonet to keep him from flinching again. Thus he ran several steps through the fire, when the pain became so great he could stand it no longer and he sunk down and crawled on his hands and feet away from the burning boards. The soldier tried again to force him back to the work but could not, and so went on and left him. He was brought to the shady sidewalk near the Taylor street Church and received such attention as could be given at the time. His feet were burned into blistering, and he had burned his hands also in trying to get away from the fire. This barbarous conduct was the work of a moment, but it was in the presence of a large number of persons, both ladies and gentlemen, who stood on the corner not far distant to which he was brought for attention, and the sentiment among the crowd was that of unqualified indignation. The act was spoken of by every person present as nothing short of absolute brutality. We do not know who the soldier was and do not desire to know, but we can not acquit ourselves of a duty without denouncing his inhuman behavior. If these Chinese are not entitled to the consideration that is bestowed upon the lowest of human beings they ought certainly to be treated as kindly as domestic animals, and any man would be indicted who would give his horse or his dog such treatment as that above described.

THE PORTLAND KU KLUX.

Three or four weeks ago a paper written in red ink after the manner of the Ku Klux and the Commune and folded neatly was slipped under the door of a citizen of Portland who keeps a Chinaman employed about his house. The purport of this writing was that the recipient and all other persons who employed Chinamen for servants, were notified and warned to desist therefrom, upon penalties that were not distinctly stated. It went on to say that the employing of Chinamen in this city must be stopped, and that the writer was one of a band of twenty eight persons who were pledged to stick together and to put a stop to Chinese labor in this community. The notice further stated that two or three weeks from that time would be granted to those employing Chinese help, in which time they must make other arrangements to prevent the commission of such depredations as would convince the public of the danger of hiring Chinese. The paper is not dated, but the time when it was deposited under the door is known, and the period from that time to the terrible fire of last Saturday is such as to make a comparison between the threats and the terrible facts an unpleasant subject for contemplation, especially in connection with the various other fires that started during the day. We cannot believe there are twenty eight Thugs in the city who would enter into such a league, but whether there are twenty-eight or only one they are fit subjects for the gallows.

Our readers will recollect that a man named Charles Grant was tried for murder in this city somewhat over a year ago, the charge being founded on the killing of Joseph Simpson. The jury found Grant not guilty, the evidence tending to show that the killing was done in self defense. Soon after the trial Grant left here for Victoria where he lived soberly and industriously till a few days ago when he returned to this city. On last Saturday he behaved himself nobly in helping to combat the fire, going with the promptness of our veteran firemen into places of the greatest peril. At the time of trial he was a stranger here, but he had one or two friends who had known him as a sober and peaceable man before he came here, and who took considerable interest in him. These friends will be glad to learn that his subsequent conduct has justified their good opinion of him.

Senator Hipple's request to the County Judge to usurp authorities not vested in him by law and make an order which he can not lawfully make for the purpose of giving the semblance of approval to his past sins was not granted yesterday. It is supposed the matter will come up for consideration again very soon. We shall see whether Judge Hamilton is a fearless judicial officer or a mere politician such as some think we are blessed with on the Circuit Bench.

Several of the leading colored citizens of Washington have addressed to Senator Sumner a letter congratulating him on the recovery of his health and expressing the hope that he will be able to resume his labors in the Senate, where they say he has so long and faithfully contended for equal rights for them. They also mention that they are now agitating the question of the common school in the District for all children, feeling confident that this is the only true way in which children can be educated without prejudice and discrimination on account of race, color or nationality. Sumner acknowledged the note in a letter in which he repeats in strongest terms his well known principle of favoring equal rights to all men and urges colored citizens to continue to hold and preserve them. In conclusion he urges most strongly the right and necessity of all children, without distinction of color, to equal rights and advantages of common schools in education.

A band of 1,500 head of sheep started from Marion county on Monday last for Eastern Oregon.

TUESDAY MORNING AUGUST 5 1873

CITY.

A MAN DROWNED.—Mention was made yesterday morning of a man named Rivenstein being missed since Saturday evening and of the unsuccessful search being made for him. When last seen he was working during the fire at Smith's mill. After being missed search was made for him but without success. A hat was found on the boom just above the mill, which was identified as belonging to Rivenstein, and it was thought that he was drowned. Yesterday the body was found floating near the water's edge. The Coroner was notified of the fact, and an inquest held at the undertaker's. The following is the verdict of the jury:

We, the undersigned jurors, summoned this 4th day of August, 1873, to hold an inquest upon the body of an unknown man found dead floating in the Wallamet river, at the mouth of a small creek south of J. S. Smith's saw-mill, and between the shore and a boom of saw logs, find from the testimony of the physician and other witnesses, that the man's name was Henry Rivenstein, aged 34 or 35 years, and that he came to his death by accidental drowning. (Signed)

J. J. Garwood, Foreman; T. N. Lakin, C. E. DuBois, Frank Gatens, A. J. Moses, H. H. Carpenter.

Rivenstein lived in Tibbett's Addition to East Portland. He leaves a wife and several small children. He was a quiet, industrious citizen, and well esteemed by all. Yesterday afternoon the remains were buried.

AID FOR SUFFERERS.—Hon. Wm O. Clark, of California, who has recently traveled throughout the world and made special researches in the countries of Asia and Africa, being now in our city, has consented to lecture at Masonic Hall this evening on the subject, "Egypt and the Holy Land," giving an account of what he saw and heard in his voyage through these countries. His lectures in other parts of our State have been highly spoken of by the press, and will doubtless be very interesting. As the proceeds of the lecture are to be distributed among the citizens who are destitute on account of the fire, we doubt not and would urge that the hall be well filled. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

NOBLE WORK.—We cannot omit to mention the noble service rendered by the new fire engine of Multnomah No. 2, at the calamitous fire on last Saturday. This engine did thirteen hours' continuous work, (except when changing cisterns) from 5 A. M. to 6 P. M., without heating a journal. Except when pumping from the river, the engine threw two streams. All the companies covered themselves with fresh laurels for their daring, courage and endurance; but all must acknowledge that the immense quantities of water thrown by the new and old engines of Multnomah contributed very greatly towards checking the career of the mad element.

MAGIC EGG.—Yesterday a gentleman laid on our table a very singular freak of nature, in the form of a magic hen's egg. This egg is loaded in the smaller end, so that, when laid on the side or larger end, it will instantly turn up and poise itself on the tip of the small end. When thrown in any manner, it invariably assumes that position. The egg was laid by a common hen, and is about the size of a quail's egg. It is a real curiosity.

FIRE BELLS.—From out the flames of last Saturday, the fire bell on the house of Protection Co. No. 4, came in an apparently uninjured condition, and will yet be of as much value to the Company, and perhaps more highly prized by the boys than ever, on account of the fiery ordeal through which it has passed. The bell belonging to Vigilance Hook & Ladder Company, however, was not so fortunate, as one side of it was entirely melted by the intense heat.

KIND OFFERS.—Mr. H. Cason and F. A. Clark, of East Portland, desire us to state that they have three vacant houses at present, to the occupancy of which families of this city who have been sufferers are welcome. Any families who have been rendered homeless and houseless by the late fire can occupy their buildings for one, two or three months without rent, or until other arrangements can be effected.

WHO RECEIVED THE CALL?—It was Eglet Brown, W. F. & Co.'s messenger, who heard the call from Portland for relief. At the time, he stepped into the agent's office for the usual remittance, and hearing the sound stopped the train, sent a messenger to the city for a company, which came down on the double-quick, was placed on the car, and the train was off and speeding away to Portland.

FACE BLISTERED.—Chief Engineer Wm. O. Bruon, by his exposure to the intense heat on Saturday, while superintending and directing the Fire Department, had his face very severely burned and blistered. He is so disfigured that his friends will hardly recognize him. Notwithstanding the narrow risks which he ran, the Chief Engineer escaped almost miraculously.

THANKS TO THE LADIES.—We have received a communication from Protection Engine Co. No. 4, desiring to return thanks to the noble ladies and the many gentlemen who furnished coffee and refreshments to them at different times during the late fire. The sentiments expressed above, we feel justified in saying, are shared in by all the firemen of this and other departments.

A GOOD SHOWING.—From the quarterly report of the City Auditor, at the Board of Trustees of East Portland, we learn that from the 1st of May to the 1st of August, there have been only 11 arrests made. The amount of fines assessed and collected during that time was $77 50; amount not collected, $5. That is a good showing for the side of morality.

AID OFFERED.—A dispatch was received yesterday morning by the firm of Millard & Van Schuyver, from M. R. Cook & Co., wholesale liquor dealers, in New York. The dispatch asked if aid was required by Portland in her recent calamity, and promising assistance at once, if needed.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.—We have carefully revised and corrected the losses sustained by the late fire and the amounts of insurance and find that the losses and insurance stand about as follows: Total loss, $1,182,325, total insurance, $258,000; total loss above the amount of insurance, $927,625.

CITY FINANCES.—From the quarterly report of the City Treasurer of East Portland, we learn that from the first of May to the first of August, the total receipts from all sources were $607 80. Disbursements for the same period, $954 80. There is now remaining in the treasury $2,250 92.

OFFER FOR RELIEF.—Our Hillsboro correspondent inquires if any assistance will be needed from the outside for the relief of the people who lost by the fire of last Saturday, and tenders the sympathy of his bailiwick. Good for Hillsboro.

DEFERRED.—Owing to the fire, the public demonstration of the People's Protective Alliance, set for this evening at Oro Fino Hall has been postponed. They will hold a regular meeting at their hall, however, where all are invited to attend.

LANDING CHANGED.—Since the terrible fire of Saturday, all the small sailing and rowing boats, which have been moored near the upper saw mill, were brought down to the foot of Oak street, where they are lying at present.

INSANE.—A man named Bigsley, of Lane county, was brought down to the Asylum on Sunday, in charge of Sheriff Poindexter. The unfortunate man was committed to that institution at once.

TIME EXTENDED.—We are informed by Assessor Dolan, that the time for the adjustment of taxes in the burned portion of the city has been extended until the 15th of August.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY.—The monthly meeting of this Society will be held at 2½ o'clock this afternoon, in the basement of the Presbyterian church.

The boat-house, heretofore lying at the foot of Columbia street has been anchored at the foot of Oak street.

The Rosedale Troupe was at Jacksonville last week, and may be expected here within the present month.

Rev. W. T. Chapman, of Kalama, lost a clergyman's diary while engaged in assisting at the fire. Finder will please leave it at the Advocate office.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN will have a graphic description of the fire and a complete list of the sufferers, showing the losses of each. Ready Friday morning.

Multnomah Lodge I. O. G. T. intended holding their moonlight excursion this evening but the disaster of last Saturday caused a postponement.

RELIEF OF THE DESTITUTE.

On yesterday His Honor, Mayor Failing, addressed the following note to each of the following named gentlemen: Hon. Phil Wasserman, Hon. W. S. Ladd, J. L. Atkinson, Esq., Wm. P. Burke, Esq., and Gen. E. B. Babbitt.

PORTLAND, August 4, 1873.

Messrs. W. S. Ladd, W. P. Burke, J. L. Atkinson, Hon. Philip Wasserman and General E. B. Babbitt—Gentlemen: The great destruction of property in the fire of Saturday last, rendering many families homeless and leaving a large number of persons without employment, calls for some organized system of relief.

As soon as the fire was subdued, measures were taken by the city authorities to relieve temporarily any cases of destitution which might exist, but it was thought best by such members of the City Council as could be consulted, that further measures should be deferred for a day or two.

I have now to request that you will act as a general committee of relief, by at once organizing and making an appeal for contributions, appointing committees to solicit the desired assistance, and also such committees as are necessary to search out the needy and dispense the required aid.

It is my judgment that the appeal should first be made to our own citizens, hoping that all necessary assistance can be given here, without asking aid from neighboring or Eastern cities. That, however, is left to your judgment, after an investigation of the number and necessities of the sufferers, and estimating the ability of our own people.

Tenders of aid have already been made by individuals in San Francisco and St. Louis, which are herewith submitted for your consideration. I am, very respectfully, yours,

HENRY FAILING, Mayor.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE.

These gentlemen accepted the trust and held a meeting at the private office of Messrs. Ladd & Tilton, bankers, yesterday afternoon.

At this meeting Mr. Ladd was chosen President and the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the city clergy of all denominations be and they are hereby respectfully requested to lend their aid and influence to the Relief Committee.

The Committee then adopted the following

APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE OF PORTLAND.

FELLOW CITIZENS: While yet the ruins of the 22d of December attest the fearful destruction of the fire-fiend, another conflagration, compared to which the former one dwindles into insignificance, has devastated our city and laid in ashes the homes of thousands of our fellow citizens, the accumulation of years of toil, the hard-earned savings which were to have made old age comfortable and to give loved ones a better start in the world—everything has vanished; all, all has disappeared. The smouldering ruins alone are left of the most densely populated part of our city.

We now appeal to those of our citizens who have been spared the pangs of this great desolation to come forward and contribute to the relief of the sufferers. Portland has always responded bravely and nobly to calls on her generosity from abroad. How much more will your hearts respond now when help is needed in our own midst, by our own neighbors—by our own kith and kin? Let our cry of anguish not go outside of our own fair city as long as her houses of business remain almost intact and the center of our wealth almost untouched.

Fellow-citizens, we cannot raise enough to rebuild the houses destroyed or put our neighbors back into business, but we can and must relieve immediate wants and prevent distress; and

WE WILL DO IT!

Committees have been appointed who will make it their business to call on all our citizens. But as it is almost impossible to reach every one, contributions will be thankfully received at the banking houses of Ladd & Tilton and the First National Bank of Oregon.

OFFERS FOR RELIEF FROM ABROAD.

The following telegrams were received here yesterday afternoon:

CHICAGO, August 4, 1873.

Henry Failing, Mayor: We have heard of your fire. Do you need pecuniary aid from abroad for your poor? I tender the sympathy of our citizens.

JOSEPH MEDILL, Mayor.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 4, 1873.

Corbett, Failing & Co.: We authorize you to draw upon us for one thousand dollars to be used for the relief of the sufferers by the late fire in your city.

GEORGE C. JOHNSON & CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 4, 1873.

J. Kramer & Co.: You are authorized to donate one hundred dollars for the relief of sufferers by fire in your city.

HECHT BROS. & CO.

The telegrams were responded to as follows by the Mayor at the request of the Executive Committee of Relief, after which the telegrams were placed in the hands of the Committee:

PORTLAND, August 4, 1873.

To Hon. Joseph Medill, Mayor, Chicago, Illinois: We gratefully acknowledge your offer of aid, and thank you for the sympathy expressed. Our losses are very large, and many have lost their all. We have organized for the relief of sufferers, and shall do our utmost here. Should we be unable to meet all proper calls, we shall with gratitude avail ourselves of your proffered generosity.

HENRY FAILING, Mayor.

PORTLAND, August 4, 1873.

George C. Johnson & Co., San Francisco, Cal.: Your tender of assistance is most thankfully acknowledged. We have organized here for the relief of the sufferers by the fire, and will accomplish all we can. Should we be unequal to the emergency our Executive Committee of Relief will avail themselves of your generous offer.

HENRY FAILING, Mayor.

PORTLAND, August 4, 1873.

To Hecht Bros. & Co., San Francisco, Cal.: Thanks for your generous remittance through your friends. We are striving to give all needed assistance here. If necessary, we shall use your donation, and, in either case, our citizens will gratefully remember you.

HENRY FAILING, Mayor.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees of East Portland met last evening at 8 o'clock, President Van Cleave in the chair.

Members present—Messrs. Buckman, Hoyt, Stephens, Severson, Pape and Van Cleave.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

A communication was received from the City Marshal, asking for a leave of absence for one month from his post. The petition was granted.

REPORTS.

A report was received from the City Attorney in relation to the condition of certain lots in Frush's square. The report was received.

A report of the City Treasurer for the quarter ending August 1st was read and referred to the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses.

A quarterly report was read from the City Recorder for the same period, which was received and placed on file.

CLAIMS.

The following claims against the city were audited and warrants ordered drawn in favor of the same: N. H. Lane, $15; W. W. Thayer, $75; Kirk Sheldon, $76; N. Clinton, $50; J. A. Newell, $75; J. W. Clayton, $50.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance for making an appropriation of $50 from the General Fund for the benefit of the incumbrances on lots 5, 6 and 7 on J street, was read third time and passed.

An ordinance to appoint a day and night police during the absence of the City Marshal, was read first, second and third times and passed.

An ordinance to make an appropriation of $45 out of the General Fund, to the Special Street Fund came upon its third reading and passed.

Board adjourned.

BIGAMOUS BRIGHAM BADGERED BY HIS BEDFELLOWS.

Everybody knows that Brigham Young's seventeenth wife, Ann Eliza Webb Young, has left the prophet's capacious bed and his frugal board, and is about to bring suit for divorce and alimony. The publication of the fact has irritated and disgusted the Saintly Brigham to such an extent that in a recent sermon he inadvertently confessed that his wives have been making it pretty warm for him. This is what Brigham thinks about wives who won't "round up their shoulders and live their religion." Said he:

"I wish my women to understand that what I am going to say is for them as well as others, and I want those who are here to tell their sisters; yes, all the women in the community. I am going to give you from this time to the 6th of October next for reflection, that you may determine whether you wish to stay with your husbands or not, and then I am going to set every woman at liberty, and say to them now go your way. And my wives have got to do one of two things, either round up their shoulders to endure the affliction of this world, and live their religion—that is, polygamy—or they must leave, for I will not have them about me. I will go to heaven alone rather than to have fighting and scratching about me. I will set all at liberty. What, first wife, too? Yes, I liberate you all. I want to go somewhere or do something to get rid of the whiners. I do not want them to receive part of the truth and spurn the rest out of doors. Let every man thus treat his wives, keeping raiment enough to cover his body, and say to your wives take all that I have and be set at liberty, but if you stay with me, you shall comply with the law of God in every respect, and that, too, without any murmuring or whining. You must fulfill the law of God in every respect, and round up your shoulders to walk up to the mark without any grunting."

PERSONAL NOTES.

General Beauregard is reported to be in feeble health.

Mr. Brownlow thinks of working on the Knoxville Whig once more.

A precocious St. Louis belle, aged only 28, has just married her fifth husband. The other four are said to be alive and doing well. Her marriage ties may be "linked sweetness," but they are not "long drawn out."

Colonel Colin, a brave officer, who commanded one of the first regiments in the service of France, has been cashiered for expressing republican sentiments and being friendly toward persons known to be earnest democrats.

To reduce a man's salary because he gets married is not to treat him very well. Yet that was done in the case of Bishop Morris, of Ohio, who, being 80, or thereabouts, took to himself a young wife. He used to get $4,500, he now gets $1,500.

Victor Emanuel, it is reported, is to be excommunicated by the next encyclical of the Pope. The Papal edict will be read in St. Peter's amid the greatest solemnity. The Cathedral will be draped in black, and yellow tapers will burn on the altar.

IN THE BURNT DISTRICT.

We passed through the vast expanse of blackened ruins yesterday, and observed men engaged in clearing away the debris. Some were saving what might possibly be of use, and others were opening spaces for building purposes. J. S. Keller and Henschuch & Schmidt had lumber on the street opposite their property, which carpenters were busily engaged in forming into proper lengths and shapes for the speedy erection of stores. At Smith Bros.' foundry we noticed workmen removing the machinery and iron work, and at the Ice Works work of a similar character was in operation. Curiosity seekers were to be seen moving through the ruins searching relics of the great fire, and also to pick up any valuable metals or articles which could be disposed of to advantage. To all appearance, the prospects of speculators in old iron and other damaged goods was not very flattering. A barricade was erected near the corner of First and Yamhill street, on which was placed boards announcing to the pedestrian that it was dangerous to pass that way. The front wall of the building lately occupied by Emil Lowenstein & Co., is in an unsafe condition and there should be no delay in tearing it down. Considerable quantities of syrups and other stock was being removed from the basement of P. Selling's store which, though blackened was apparently in good order. All the stores along the west side of Second street which have been vacant, are now occupied by persons who were forced to leave their old locations by the spread of the fire, taking with them, in many cases, sufficient goods to enable them to make enough show to indicate the business they are engaged in. The Gas and Water Companies' workmen are placing the pipes in order to give a supply of these necessaries to those who may settle down to stay in the district burned. The street railway in some places is being taken up, and will not be laid until the street is placed in such a condition as will enable the railway company to lay the track in as good order as before the fire. In some places the smoke continues to issue from piles of combustible stuff, and in many instances the smell from burning bacon, hams and flesh in general, was intolerable. Wagons well filled with store fixtures, remnants of stocks, etc., moved through the streets in the burned portion, wending their way to new and much more congenial quarters. In the immediate vicinity of the fire limits carpenters are repairing the buildings partially torn down, and those merchants who moved with the impression that their store would be next to be swallowed up by the devouring element, are replacing their stocks and will be able to resume business to-day.

Confidence appears on the face of all who suffered from the effects of the great conflagration, and we feel safe to say that many will relocate in the burnt district within the next month. As it is, all who can find new stores seek rooms nearest the fire limits. Each day will bring forth new developments, and we will, with the assistance of those who are acquainted with the facts, endeavor to place before our readers everything that transpires relative to the changes in the burnt district.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Wm. Weiser has a building for sale in a good locality. Call and investigate.

See J. A. Thomas' card under new to-day. He can handle a brush, depend on it.

Notice to Policy Holders in the Union Insurance Company—E. D. Backenstos.

Dr. Koehler, dentist, has everything almost ready to open on the northwest corner of Yamhill and First. See card.

In Carter's wharf will be found Everding & Farrell. They propose going right along in their business. They mean business all the time.

Mr. J. A. Strowbridge, for the present, will be found at the northwest corner of First and Yamhill. Will open a new stock in a few days.

Farnsworth & Co are all right, and wish their friends to know that they have settled down at the southwest corner of Morrison and Third streets.

P. McGee & Co., First street, have a large stock of window glass, sash, doors, blinds, etc. These gentlemen have but recently opened here, and deserve a share of the public patronage.

BURNED.—We have received information that a barn belonging to Mr. Clark Hay, who lives near the race track, on the east side, was destroyed by fire about 12 o'clock Sunday night. A considerable amount of hay and three sets of harness was lost with the barn. The total loss will be about $2,000.

The society for the propagation of the faith of Rome, the most extensive missionary society in existence, has issued a summary of its receipts in subscriptions during the year 1872. Its income during the fifty-first year of its work shows an increase of nearly 582,000 francs upon the income of the previous year, and amounts to 5,602,645 francs, or $1,000,000.

A Parliamentary return shows that in the division of the city of London the number of children requiring elementary schools was 11,529; in Chelsea, 88,802; in Finsbury, 73,873; in Greenwich, 40,358; in Hackney, 72,014; in Lambeth, 100,995; in Marlebone, 72,020; in Southwark, 13,589; in the Tower Hamlets, 87,714; and in the division of Westminster, 39,749.

This sad and serious obituary comes from a Philadelphia paper, where we cannot suffer it to bloom unnoticed: "Samuel was a lovely child; His temper sweet, his aspect mild; And when he breathed the vital air, He often soothed his parents' care." These qualities distinguish little Samuel—who was 13 months old—as one of the most astonishing phenomena of the age. Everybody knows how ruffianly and overbearing children of that age usually are, what a pleasure to consider Samuel's "mild aspect!" Then his talents for frequently breathing the air and soothing his parents—strange child!

GOLD MINES DISCOVERED.

[Victoria Standard, August 1.]

Mr. Samuel Booth, lately in the employ of Brodrick & Co., of this city, received yesterday a telegram from his brother Edward, who last spring went to the Big Bend gold mines, in British Columbia; Edward instructs his brother to leave everything behind, and proceed at once to Big Bend, as he has just discovered the "biggest thing" yet, in the shape of hill diggings. Sam is also instructed to telegraph forthwith to Sacramento and Portland, where he has brothers residing and to advise them likewise to make all haste and despatch to the new Eldorado. Samuel Booth, who resides here, will lose no time in going up to the mines. It is his intention to leave per Enterprise to-morrow morning. Are we at last to realize the hopes the public once had of the richness of the Big Bend gold fields? We trust we are British Columbians, many to their cost, remember the exodus, and disappointment experienced by most who proceeded thither, for of the hundreds who left Big Bend some seven or eight years ago, but few reaped the reward of their extreme toils and hardships. A few remained on the various creeks, scattered throughout the district, and worked on with varied success until the present. Should the news just received prove correct—and there is no reason to doubt it—Big Bend will receive as many fortune hunters this and next year, as she did in August 1866.

"Don't fish here!" is the interrogation which starts off an article going the rounds of the press. And a very exciting one it must be, we think, as even the masses here have got hold of it. Near a neighboring pond is painted on a board, "Don't fish here!" which may be the inquiry of an anxious but humble seeker, or may be the contemptuous exclamation of one who has no patience with ignorance.—Danbury News.

If you have a cough or cold you are carrying with you the seeds of consumption. It should be cured at once. Thousands have already saved themselves with WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which has cured the disease in every stage.

FOR SALE AT AUCTION,

Upon Easy Terms.

That most desirable property known as "THE DISTILLERY," adjoining the Railroad Ferry Landing, having a frontage of 123 feet, with a depth of 160 feet to low water mark, and with the privilege of further constructing a wharf and warehouse to the river channel. Also, including a large two and a half story substantial store and brick building,—suitable for a warehouse or store—and a one-story fire proof warehouse. This property is adjacent to the Steamship wharves, Railroad depot, Ferryboat landing and near the proposed Rail and Wagon road bridge to East Portland. Likewise in view of the North Pacific railroad, which crosses the river near that point, and is the best piece of business property in Portland. This valuable estate will enhance in value rapidly with the increasing demand for wharfage, and for other business purposes. It will be sold in three separate parts: The first the vacant part adjoining the Ferryboat landing. The second part comprising the large Stone and Brick building. The third part, including the Fire proof building.

The value of this property as an investment, and for business purposes cannot be surpassed.

Sold by A. B. Richardson, Saturday, Aug 2d.

FINALLY DECIDED.

It is an old but true saying that a man is known by the books he reads and the company he keeps. This saying is illustrative of the great sewing machine war, in which nearly all the second-class machines have played prominent parts, expending much ammunition and making forced marches attended with great loss. But our readers have not seen the name of the world renowned GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE flourished before the people in the above connection, and this dignified reserve has established the popularity of the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE, now and forever. It stands on its respectability and merits. These machines make the ELASTIC STITCH and SHUTTLE STITCH, and will be sold on installments of $10 per month. W. T. Shanahan, agent, 71 First street.

Judge Dunlevy, whom gossip designs Lieut.-Colonel Fred Grant as a papa-in-law, was for seventeen years a Judge in Central Ohio, and has been very intimate with Robert C. Schenck. He is a wealthy man, and has recently made a large amount of money in real estate.

SOME people may become excited over the "terminus" of the Northern Pacific Railroad, on Puget Sound, but it does not disturb Beck & Waldman, corner Front and Washington streets, in the least, as they intend to pursue the usual course to their customers, and that is to sell goods at prices which will enable those with limited means to provide themselves with good clothing at a very small outlay of money. Parents should bring their children to this house for neat-fitting suits.

Why linger in blissful ignorance? Why do you wander about seeking a place where they keep the largest and finest stock of Summer Clothing? Why pay high prices for goods when the fact has been long established that the great firm of J. KOHN & Co., 91 Front Street, sell Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods so cheap? They keep the best, they sell the cheapest, and what more can be asked?

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS

Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medical [illegible] of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medical utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an infallible remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the [illegible] in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1-lb bottles.

Beware of imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by HODGE, CALEF & CO., Wholesale Druggists, Portland. Sole Agents for Oregon.

REST

[illegible] earth [illegible] upon her eyes
[illegible] her [illegible] eyes weary [illegible] earth
Lie close around her, leave no room for mirth
With its harsh laughter, nor for sound of sighs
She hath no questions, she hath no replies
Hushed in and curtained with a blessed dearth
Of all that irked her from her hour of birth
With stillness that is almost paradise
Darkness more clear than noonday holdeth her
Silence more musical than any song
Even her very heart has ceased to stir
Until the morning of eternity
Her rest shall not begin nor end but be
And when she wakes she will not think it long

A REPLY TO MANY LETTERS

How shall I manage to get an introduction to literary employment?" "What shall I do in order to get a living by literature?" These inquiries, varied in form and accompanied by frank statements of personal circumstances, and sometimes by earnest entreaties for sympathy and help or special favor, form the staple of a certain proportion of the letters received by the editor of a magazine. They are all briefly answered, of course, but the time which they demand cannot always be at the editor's disposal. They can all be answered in print, and here.

It is never hard for a good writer to get an introduction to a magazine. Such an introduction rests entirely with himself. A personal presentation to the editor or a letter of introduction, counts for nothing. To write an article so good that an editor must take it is the best and quickest introduction possible. If a man cannot write such an article as this, no other introduction will be of the value of a straw; if he can, he will need no other. To an editor the discovery of a first-rate article is like the discovery of a diamond, and the man who writes finds himself recognized at once.

"But we do not know what will suit you; tell us about the sort of articles you desire." This statement goes unpleasantly far to prove that you could not write what would be suitable, even if the impossible task of informing you were undertaken. Good things are never written to order. If you cannot suit a magazine by writing a thing in your own way, you cannot suit it by trying to conform to some purpose or plan outside of yourself. One of the most desirable things in a magazine is variety, and if there is any thing characteristically piquant in a writer's style or ingenious in his mode of handling a subject, it wants just that. I cannot tell what it wants any further than to say that it wants the best it can get of every thing that is good.

On behalf of the whole editorial fraternity we protest against an idea very prevalent among young writers, that the acceptance of articles for the press goes by favoritism, and that they are refused a hearing simply because they are unknown. Some have resorted to tricks to ascertain whether their manuscripts have ever been opened and read! Let these writers be assured that every manuscript is taken up with hope, and that if it is not read through by the editor, it is because it is found to be worthless in itself, or worthless to him and for its purposes.

Getting a living by literature is a very difficult business for anybody. Probably there are not ten persons in America, out of a salaried position, who get their living by literature. These are all, and necessarily, men and women of culture, peculiar gifts, experience, wide knowledge of men and things, and unwearied industry. Unless a young man or woman go into a salaried position involving constant drudgery, there is no such thing for them as getting a living by literature. A young man just out of college or a young woman just out of school—nay, those of maturer life who find themselves suddenly thrown upon their own resources and obliged to cast about for the means of living—can no more get a living by literature than they can fly. It takes a long apprenticeship—a process of culture involving much time and wide experience and patient practice—to be able to get a living by literature.

When the power to write well is acquired and the mind is stored with knowledge and fertile in original resources, what then? The magazines of America cannot possibly publish more than one in twenty-five of the manuscripts written to them. They could not do so if every article were desirable. Few writers can find a market for so many as a dozen articles in a year, and few would find it for the permanent advantage of their reputation to publish so many as a dozen. To get a living by outside writing for periodicals is so nearly impossible to every man whose capacity for work is not great and whose wants are not small that it is practically useless to make any exception whatever.

Every man with literary gifts and ambitions must work out his life in his own way, and he will do so; but those persons who turn to literature for a living because they find themselves shut off from other resources, and those who seek an introduction to literary life because they fancy writing and do not think of any thing else to do, would do well to learn that there is no such thing as success for them. Their hopes are vain, their labor will be in vain, their disappointment is sure. In saying this we would not be considered as discouraging the cultivation of literature among the young. No matter how much they write, provided they do not rely upon writing for a livelihood. Even if they should achieve a moderate success, they would find themselves so slowly paid and engaged in competition with such a host of accustomed and accomplished writers that their life and labor would be unremunerative and unsatisfactory.—Dr. J. G. Holland, Scribner for August.

SEEKING A LOST HEIR.—The following story of a lost heir is told by a Tasmanian paper, The [illegible] Chronicle:

About seven years ago in the city of London a [illegible] messenger died leaving cash to the tune of £100,000 to be quarreled over, fought and disputed for by the required heirs at law. Advertisements were inserted at different times in the English newspapers, and many a claimant à la Tichborne was forthcoming. The lawyers, however, were not satisfied that any of the numerous claimants were the right men, and what has just transpired proves they were correct in their judgment, as the right man has turned up in the person of the deceased messenger's brother, George Huntley, who arrived in this colony about 40 years ago. He was discovered by Mr. [illegible] a Victorian [illegible] the ranges of that colony [illegible] shipped to [illegible] [illegible] where he was identified as the [illegible] who arrived [illegible] After all the [illegible] England [illegible]

[illegible] Miss Wright of Winchester [illegible] Department, Washington [illegible]

THE SHAH'S TALISMANS

Galignani's Messenger remarks: "Much has been told of the fabulous packages and the hundredless precious stones which the Shah of Persia brings with him on his visit to Europe, and undoubtedly part of his most precious articles is composed of talismans, from which His Majesty, who is superstitious as a very spiritualist. They are extremely numerous. To name them would be tedious. [illegible] [illegible] the most important one in a direct line from the legendary [illegible] whose history [illegible] [illegible] a diamond. The [illegible] placed it on the forehead of his black [illegible] of which a [illegible] poet says: 'He passes rapid like a [illegible] whose wings have been enlarged by fright.' That object is called [illegible]. It has, according to the Persian [illegible] the property of [illegible] conspirators [illegible] their projects. When the brother of the Shah was [illegible] a few years [illegible] in [illegible] terrified and seized with remorse the criminal avowed everything, and that confession was attributed to the magic influence of the talisman. The brother was banished and his accomplices sentenced to the punishment of the string in the nose. After the Horaona, the next in point of importance is a small cube of amber, fallen from the sun in the time of Mahomet. Its Persian name is [illegible], and it is believed in that country to be able to render the Shah invulnerable. He always wears it round his neck. Then comes a gold box studded with emeralds, and which was blessed by the Prophet. It renders the members of the royal family invisible on the express condition that their acquaintance with women is by sight. When the present monarch received it from his father he had already something like 250 legitimate wives without counting the others. He therefore has been unable to test the effect. That does not prevent him from religiously believing in that marvelous quality of this box, which is called Khamen. Let us mention the diamond Hyduch, a splendid stone, which is worth not less than 500,000 or 600,000 francs, and which ornaments the hilt of one of the Shah's sabres. That weapon renders its possessor invincible. Every enemy who struggles against it is fatally destined to be decapitated. His Majesty has, however, never had occasion to expose his person, and the weapon never has, so to say, issued from its scabbard. Finally, we may mention the talisman most redoubted by the Shah. It is a damaskeened Khangiar, endowed with similar properties to the cimeter above mentioned, only, the destinies have willed that whoever shall use it shall perish by it. Therefore the magic arm remains inclosed in a coffer of sandal wood, on which is engraved a verse of the Koran.

THE COMMONS OF ENGLAND ON THE MARRIAGE OF EDINBURGH

A London dispatch of the 29th ult. gives the annexed summary of the discussion of the Queen's message concerning the marriage of the Duke of Edinburgh.

In the House of Commons this evening consideration of the Queen's message touching the marriage of the Duke of Edinburgh was resumed. Gladstone was present and made a speech urging a grant of the allowance asked. He referred to numerous precedents and set forth the auspicious character of the approaching alliance. Royal marriages, he said, rarely had any political or diplomatic significance in these days, but this union, while it was one of mutual friendship, would be a new tie between England and what some regarded as a hostile State. It would cause a favorable change in public feeling toward Russia, and no time could be more satisfactory for such an alliance than the present. Gladstone paid a glowing tribute of praise to Emperor Alexander for his emancipation of serfs. He then moved that £25,000 per annum be granted the Prince and Princess, and £6,000 to the latter in case she survive her husband. In conclusion the Premier deprecated any decision of a character likely to destroy the gracefulness of the act.

In the absence of Disraeli, Ward Hunt seconded the motion.

Taylor, member for Leicester, said he could not vote for the motion; he regarded the proposition as unwarranted and inexpedient, and declared that he should oppose the second reading of the bill whereon the money was appropriated.

James Holt, one of the members for Lancashire, inquired whether the Grand Duchess Alexandrovna was prepared to conform to the Church of England.

Gladstone replied that this could not be required of her by the act of succession, because she could not be an heir to the throne. He added that to push this question would be odious and insulting to the parties concerned.

Newdegate, member for North Warwickshire, suggested that, as their issue might become heirs, the question raised was pertinent.

After further debate it was agreed that the necessary appropriation bill should be introduced to-morrow in the Lords. The motion for an allowance to the royal pair was then carried unanimously without debate.

A resolution censuring Scudamore, Superintendent of the Postal Telegraph Service, for an alleged misappropriation failed to pass the Commons to-day by a vote of 161 nays to 11 yeas.

Martin Kennedy, formerly of Polk county, passed through Salem last Sunday with his family and his sons with their wives, little ones, wagons, herds and flocks, to again renew their residence in Polk, after a residence of four or five years in Grand Ronde Valley.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and the [illegible] requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, &c., attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz.: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By including Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells Fargo & Co. a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers and intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN. jy6d4p
